

Aladdin Tour -- AEA Production Stage Manager and Assistant Stage Manager Positions

Disney Theatrical Group is seeking resumes to fill positions for Production Stage Manager (PSM) and Assistant Stage Managers (ASM) on a new touring production of Aladdin in the fall of 2022. This production will be an Actors' Equity Association Tier C Production contract. (Current salaries per the AEA Tier C contract are listed as $2162.00 for PSM, $1710.00 for 1st ASM, and $1491.00 for 2nd ASM).

Responsibilities

PSM responsibilities include but are not limited to: facilitating studio and technical rehearsals, supervising the running of each performance, maintaining direction of the show, creating and maintaining production calendar, creating daily rehearsal and show reports, and running understudy and put-in rehearsals for replacements. The PSM should have the ability to communicate extremely well with both technicians and actors. The PSM will lead a team of ASMs, as well as Production Assistants, during studio rehearsals.

ASM positions will support the PSM and the touring company with the above responsibilities.

Additionally, all stage managers will attend and participate in equity, diversity & inclusion, sexual harassment, and any other anti-bias training and workshops as scheduled by the Producer. They will model and support the mission and values of The Walt Disney Company and Disney Theatrical Group by demonstrating inclusive behavior, maintaining a safe and professional working environment free from any aggressions, and recognizing micro-aggressions and interrupting behaviors that hinder Disney Theatrical Group's diversity and inclusion efforts.

Basic Qualifications:

- Experience in professional Stage Management, with touring experience preferred
- Be a forward-thinking person who can work independently as well as part of a team
- Have excellent verbal and written communication and leadership skills
